The calibrachoa Aloha series stands out for its exceptional uniformity and compact, mounding growth, ideal for premium pots and packs. The medium, medium striped, double and specialty series all share the same habit and early flowering, making them easy to combine. Aloha provides predictable timing, a quick turnaround and strong performance from small pots to large hanging baskets. The extra-large series has robust genetics, excellent rain tolerance and long-lasting, vibrant colour at point of sale.

ADVANTAGES FOR TRADE

- Uniform, compact habit: All Aloha series have a consistent, mounding growth for easy management.
- Early, reliable flowering: Fast, predictable finish for early market demands.
- Daylength-neutral (Kona): Performs consistently across various production windows.

ADVANTAGES FOR CONSUMERS

- All-season: compact, mounding habit keeps baskets and containers full and attractive all season.
- Vibrant Colour Range: Wide range of shades lets gardeners match any style or decor.
- Stunning Hanging Baskets: Ideal for show-stopping baskets, creating instant outdoor focal points.
